Welcome...

The Vision Sciences Society is committed to progress in understanding vision and its relation to cognition, action and the brain. Our primary goal is to host a yearly meeting where both new and established investigators can present and discuss their work in a relaxed informal setting. Our interdisciplinary nature is reflected by the program committee and review board.

VSS is now in its fourth year at the beautiful Naples Grande Hotel in Naples, Florida. Naples is a picturesque city bordered by the gentle waters of the Gulf of Mexico to the west, and the mysterious Everglades to the south. Naples offers many experiences, from savoring lunch in a quaint diner to five-star cuisine in a restaurant. Naples is also a shopper's delight, where you can explore exclusive boutiques for the most unusual items, to regional malls. Naples is also home to world-class entertainment, with the Naples Philharmonic Center for the Arts, and many theaters that offer shows to delight audiences.

Expect to see more than 1,800 national and international researchers and professionals, all members of VSS, representing all fields related to vision science. This six-day program of speakers, panels, posters, and exhibits addresses various aspects of vision science education and research.

Your company is invited to exhibit at the twelfth annual VSS Meeting, May 11-16, 2012, at the Naples Grande Hotel in Naples, Florida. See the Exhibitor Information page for exhibit rates and details.

Your company is invited to advertise in the meeting program and distribute product flyers in the attendee meeting packet. See the Advertising Information page for advertising rates.
